Mack Testifies Before Probers

Says He Won't Resign Post As FCC Member

WASHINGTON (AP)—Richard A. Mack said today he will not resign from the Federal Communications Commission. He swore he was not influenced or swayed by appeals from friends in a contested television license case.

Mack further told a House investigating subcommittee under oath that he is getting rid of his interest in a Miami insurance agency which wrote the insurance on the successful applicant in the contest for Miami's TV Channel 10.

Mack said that it was only last Monday when he read the news papers that he knew this agency, Sember-Shelden Insurance Agency, Inc., had obtained the business from Public Service Television, Inc.

Mack acknowledged borrowings totaling $4,980 since 1950 from Miami. Attorney Thurman A. Whiteside. He said all but $250 has been repaid.

"Mr. Whiteside has never in his life attempted to use any financial obligation of mine to influence my actions, either private or official," Mack said.

A Republican member of the committee said earlier that Mack should resign immediately; and if he didn't, should be removed from office.

Mack had told reporters before going into the hearing room that he was not going to resign.

Mack, who has denied any wrongdoing, is a 48-year-old Florida Democrat who was named to the FCC by President Eisenhower in July 1955.

The investigators have heard testimony that rival groups seeking a TV license in Miami tried to influence Mack. These groups included friends of Mack on both sides of the battle for Miami's Channel 10, which ultimately went to a subsidiary of National Airlines.

Farm Policies Under Attack

Midwest GOP Storms As Ike Backs Benson

WASHINGTON (AP)—Resentment flared among rebellious Midwestern Republicans in Congress today over President Eisenhower's sharply worded defense of Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

As two GOP House members prepared to carry on a protest against Benson's farm policies to the White House later today, Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.) told newsmen: "So far, I've been under the impression we only needed a new secretary of agriculture. Now I think we also need a new president."

Eisenhower made abundantly clear to his news conference he had no idea of ousting Benson and little thought of interfering with the secretary's farm policies. One or the other has been urged openly by many farm belt Republicans.

Praising Benson as a man of courage and honesty, Eisenhower said those advocating his ouster are badly mistaken.

Eisenhower said that by and large the country will be better off if farmers are free from government regulations and operate under free market forces like the rest of the economy.

He also said that Benson's programs generally have had the approval of bipartisan agricultural advisory committees.

Taking the House floor shortly after the President made his statement, Rep. Andersen (R-Minn.) commented bitterly: "It now appears that the President has foreclosed any opportunity to acquaint himself with the facts of life."

Andersen was one of about 30 Midwestern GOP House members seeking to force Benson's resignation or a change in administration farm policies in favor of higher farm price supports.

Rep. Weaver (R-Neb.) said, "Mr. Benson is ineffectual because the folks have lost confidence in him. When he lacks that confidence and leadership, the President ought to take cognizance of it."

In the move, which will take place on or about March 15, Mr. Friedberg will take over the major portion of the administrative work of the Leetonia school system. Mr. Friedberg came here from Willoughby in 1956.

Supt. Hayes will spend the major portion of the next three months in research and writing at Columbus, to obtain his Ph.D. from the University of Ottawa (Canada). Hayes took over the Leetonia superintendency in 1955 when it was originally planned that he be given a leave to work on his doctorate. However, when the Leetonia Board of Education embarked on a building program, Hayes' leave was postponed.

He will continue to spend weekends in Leetonia and will carry out major assignments for the school district. He will assume his fulltime duties late in the spring.

In other action, the school board reserved a half-day March 27 for teachers meetings. The afternoon will be spent in reviewing the reading program in the grades with a consultant from the Scott-Foresman Co. At the high school level the faculty will concentrate on instructional improvement. A consultant from Kent State University will be present.

Dr. Paul Beaver, board president, presided over the meeting.

Dallas Bishop Faces New Trial For Burglary

Ohio Court Allows Former E. Liverpool Officer to Alter Plea

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today he will schedule a new trial this term of court for Dallas Bishop, former East Liverpool special police officer, as a result of an Ohio Supreme Court ruling Wednesday.

The high court let stand decisions of the Columbiana County Appellate Court and ordered the Common Pleas Court to allow Bishop to change his plea on a burglary charge from guilty to innocent.

One of Seven Indicted

Bishop was one of seven East Liverpool policemen and special patrolmen indicted in April 1956 in the so-called police burglary scandal.

The special officer, whose statements on the witness stand during the trials didn't match a previous confession and thus scuttled the state's case against the policemen, tried to change his plea to innocent after the second trial but Judge Joel H. Sharp denied the motion and sentenced him to one to 15 years in the penitentiary.

This sentence was overruled by the Appellate Court, and Brokaw appealed the higher court's decision to the Ohio Supreme Court.

Of the three other officers indicted with Bishop on charges of burglarizing a lumber company office in 1954, two pleaded innocent and were acquitted. They were Patrolman Ira Cunningham and Special Officer Jerry Raimond.

The other man, Robert McBane, pleaded guilty.

Raimond was convicted Dec. 12, 1956 on three counts of receiving stolen property but that conviction also was reversed by the Court of Appeals. Raimond's trial was on a secret indictment returned in November, 1956.

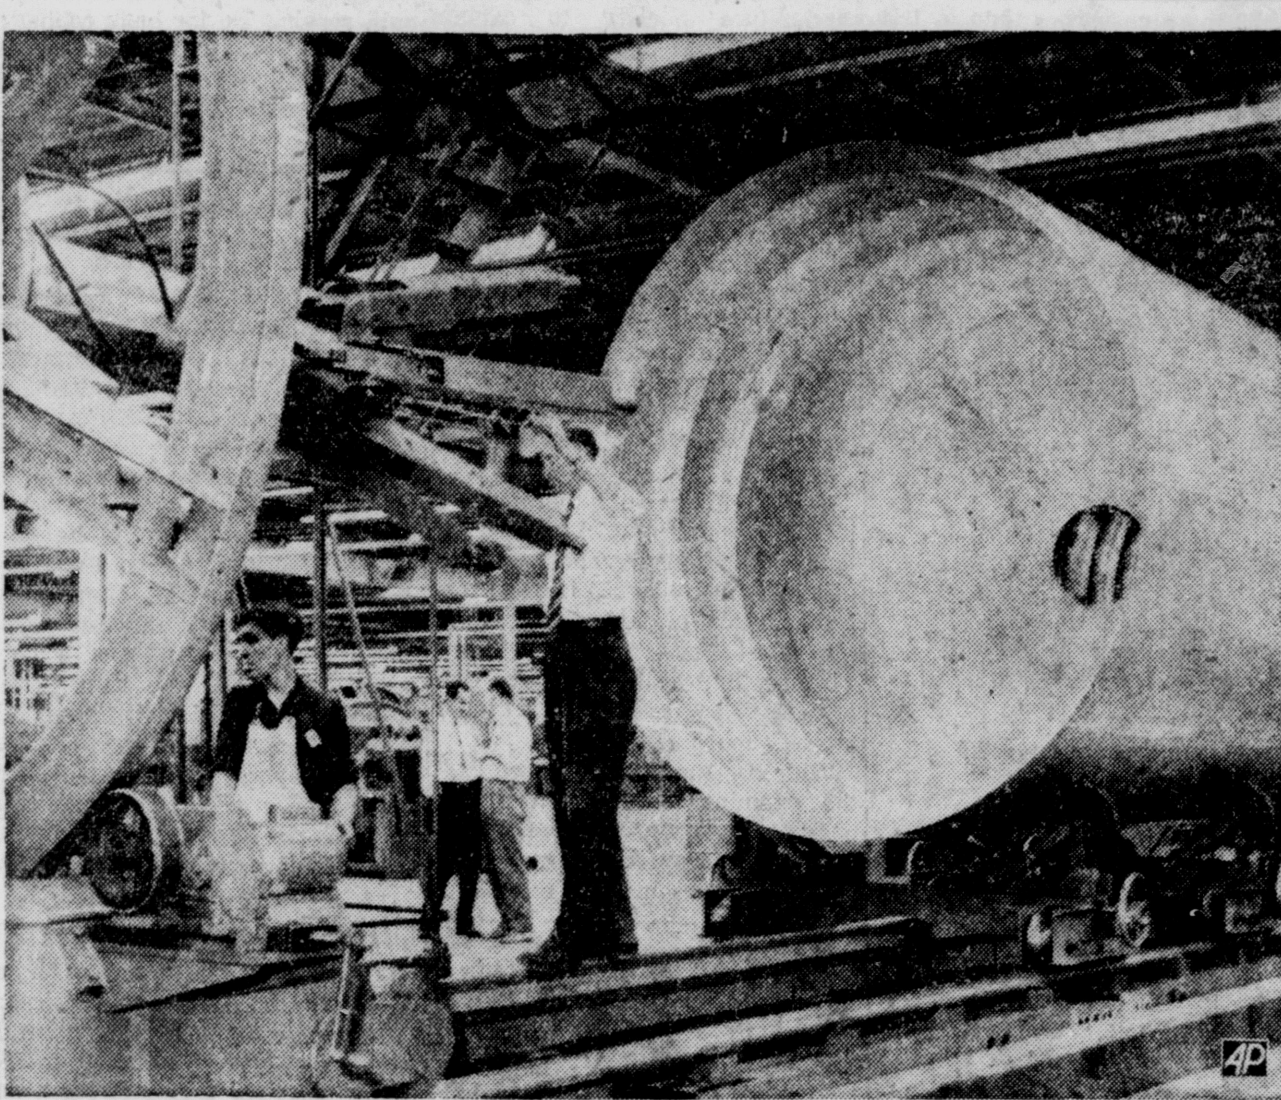

New trials for four defendants in the police case loom as a result of a ruling Feb. 4 by Common Pleas Court Judge Raymond Buzzard which rejected motions by the four for dismissal of indictments against them.

Turned Down Request

Judge Buzzard, who had been studying the motion since Jan. 4, turned down the dismissal request filed by Cunningham, Raimond and Robert Carroll and Louis Stutler.

The quashing of the seven indictments had been asked on the grounds that trials had not been held within the generally prescribed three court terms, Brokaw, in arguing against the dismissals, said he had more "material evidence."

Smashes Against Mountainside

33 Die as British Airliner Crashes

BOLTON, England (AP)—A chartered British airliner with 42 persons aboard smashed against a snow-covered mountain today only five minutes from its destination. A policeman at the scene said 33 persons perished.

An injured stewardess, the only woman aboard, and the copilot struggled through knee-deep snow to a television relay station on top of the mountain and gasped out the first word of the disaster.

Helicopters, snowplows and mountain rescue teams fought through a blizzard to the scene. The twin-engine Bristol Wayfarer operated by Silver City Airways, was carrying automobile dealers from the Isle of Man in the Irish Sea on a one-day junket to Manchester, only 15 miles from here, to inspect a plant of the Exide Battery Co.

Wisecracking and jovial, the plane for the 100-mile flight, the plane for the 10-mile flight, waving goodbye to wives and children. There was a crew of three aboard.

Thirty-five minutes later, with visibility cut by heavy clouds and the blizzard, the plane smashed to bits against Winter Hill, near the bleak moorlands of Lancashire and only 400 yards from a lonely TV tower manned by five engineers.

Stewardess Jennifer Curtis stumbled out of the wreckage with copilot William Howarth. Shocked, exhausted and injured, they staggered uphill into the TV station and gasped; "Our plane has crashed."

The snow was so deep that no vehicle could get within a mile of the wreckage. Bulldozers and snowplows groaned through four-foot drifts, opening the way for ambulances, when the call for help went out from the TV station. Rescuers, lugging stretchers, blankets and medicines, struggled on foot the last distance.

Three helicopters took off from a nearby Royal Air Force base with doctors and nurses. Men at a quarry some distance away helped carry survivors to the ambulances.

Splitting largely along party lines, the Senate voted 49-42 Wednesday night to retain in the bill a provision to raise the present 3-cent rate to 5 cents for non-local letters. The 5-cent stamp would be in effect for three years.

The vote was a substantial victory for President Eisenhower, who had asked for the 5-cent stamp. Republicans held their ranks almost intact to keep the provision in the bill. Most Democrats backed an unsuccessful move to eliminate the section.

The matter will still have to be threshed out in conference with the House, which voted last year for a 4-cent letter rate.

The 5-cent stamp is calculated to bring in an extra 175 million dollars for each of the three years. This money is earmarked in the bill for spending on modernization of post offices and postal equipment.

Twisters Travel Across Area 140 Miles Long

Shattered Buildings, Shredded Lands Dot Stricken Sections

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Tornadoes bombarded 13 areas in Mississippi Wednesday night, leaving destruction and nearly 80 dead, dying and injured persons.

Searchers moving into the devastated areas found 10 dead and about 70 injured. Two died of their injuries in a hospital early today.

Shattered buildings and shredded farm lands dotted a 140-mile long area in central and east Mississippi that stretched from Canton, 20 miles north of Jackson; and Poplarville, 120 miles to the south.

Five of the dead were in the hard-hit rural area between Richton and Waynesboro, near the Alabama line. Three were at the Farm Haven community near Canton, one near Jackson and ones near Walnut Grove, 40 miles east of Canton.

One of the Farm Haven victims was Sally Day, a Negro woman reported to be 110 years old. The first twister reported was in the Jackson area.

Mrs. Leland Bolton, a 27-year-old housewife of the Luckney community east of here, said she was setting the table for supper when the rains and hard winds came. "It sounded like a million bells," she said. "All I could think about was my babies and family. Only the good Lord saved us. An icebox held off the falling debris when the roof fell in."

The twister also hit in the Fannin community of the same area, killing 3-year-old Cathy Jones. Hospitals in the Jackson area reported a dozen injuries.

Several dozen were reported hurt in the devastated Richton-Waynesboro area. Percy H. Clark, 56, said he and his wife, 48, heard a sound like a train as they sat in their living room.

"The next thing we knew we were sitting under it," he said. "We heard a roaring and all at once we were going."

He said his pickup truck was carried 100 feet and deposited in the top of a pine tree.

In the same area, the twister ripped up the house of Mrs. Alonzo Rylee, about 50, killing her and her son Billy, 13.

The town of Walnut Grove, where Mrs. Tarrin Ellis was killed, was another center of destruction.

George Keith, editor of the town was "literally torn up" with 50 or 60 houses damaged. Twenty injuries were reported in the Poplarville area of Pearl River County.

Mishaps Kill 4,732 Ohioans In '57

'One of State's Safer Years,' Reports Official

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Ohio Safety Council said today 1957 "was one of Ohio's safer years," but then added that 4,732 persons died from accidents last year.

This figure compared with 4,687 accidental deaths of Ohioans during 1956, reported Ralph R. West, and it exceeded the 1955 total by the casualty rate—51.2 deaths per 100,000 population, will be the lowest since 1910, the first year for which records are available.

West reported, "Just 10 years ago 1947 — we had a 72.5 death rate with 5,363 deaths, 631 more than last year," West said. "In fact, had the 1947 rate prevailed last year, we would have had 2,000 more deaths than we actually suffered."

Deaths from motor vehicle accidents climbed 1.5 per cent while the national figure dropped 3 per cent. But the increase in Ohio travel, West explained, was sufficient to hold fatalities to 5.6 deaths per 100 million vehicle miles.

Accidental deaths in the home dropped two per cent nationally, while Ohio showed an 11 per cent drop. Occupational fatalities went down one per cent on the national level, 25 per cent in Ohio.

Public accidents not involving a motor vehicle are the dark spot in Ohio's picture, showing more of an increase than all other groups—a rise of 31.3 per cent. Most of the casualties come from falls, indoor and outdoor.

More than a third of all accident victims have reached their 65th birthday, West's report said. This is the largest age grouping, but the highest increase was among persons 25 to 44 years, showing 12.68 more casualties than in 1956. Only those less than 15 and those from 45 to 64 years showed fewer deaths than the previous year.

Former Fair Head Asked To Explain Deficit In Funds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state auditor's office has asked a former secretary of the Pickaway County Agriculture Society to explain what happened to $3,314.19 in fair board and allied funds.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes released an examiner's report today listing findings for recovery against Henry L. Reid Jr., who was fair board secretary between May 31, 1956, and Feb. 28, 1957.

Listed are an apparent deficit of $1,491.63 and a total of $1,822.56 in funds received but not accounted for, the report said. The audit covers business of the Agriculture Society from May 31, 1956 through last Dec. 17.

The examiner said there was a lack of records on tickets sold for gate admissions, grandstand and parking, membership tickets accepted, sale of advertising, rentals, concessions, racing programs and premium book, speed and racing entry fees as well as other miscellaneous receipts.

"Due to the lack of records," the examiner said, "it was impossible to determine whether all funds were properly accounted for and all accounts paid in full."

FALL INJURIES FATAL

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Injured when she fell from a second floor porch on her apartment, Mrs. Nellie B. Showalter, 56, died in University Hospital Wednesday. Police said she was shaking a rug when the porch's wooden railing apparently broke.

Attempted Escape May Give Inmates Longer Jail Terms

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—About the only thing Ohio Penitentiary inmates realized from their attempted escape last Friday is a probable two-year extension of their sentences.

Warden Ralph Alvis made that recommendation to the Ohio Pardon and Parole Commission. The commission usually follows the recommendation of prison administrators in such cases.

The four attempted an over-the-wall escape but were foiled when guards caught them taping ladders together.

They are:

Theodore A. Jackson, 35, and his brother William C., 48, both of Columbus, each serving 30-80 years for armed robbery, kidnapping and auto theft.

Edward Mischler, 51, of Cincinnati, serving life for bank robbery. George Vertz, 29, of Milwaukee, Wis., serving two concurrent 1-20 terms for auto theft burglary and larceny.

VOTES AGAINST AMENDMENT
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) voted with the majority against an amendment to the bill increasing postal rates, while Sen. Lausche (D-Ohio) voted for it Wednesday.

The amendment, which would have eliminated a five-cent postage rate for non-local letters, was rejected in the Senate 49-42.

Four Fliers Die In Crash of Jet

Accident Takes Place Near Columbus Base

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP)—A six-jet RB47 reconnaissance bomber, beginning its descent for a landing at Lockbourne Air Force Base near Columbus, Ohio, suddenly plunged to earth and exploded six miles south of here Wednesday. All four crew members were killed.

The dead, all first lieutenants, are identified as Theodore L. Jenner, 26, of Evanston, Ill., aircraft commander (first pilot); George M. Reiley, 25, of Hyattsville, Md., pilot; Earl N. Fogle 27, of Pittsburgh, navigator, and Alvin B. Story, 25, of Charlotte, N. C., an additional pilot aboard for training.

The plane, which was on a routine training flight, had been in contact with the Lockbourne control tower and had been cleared for an instrument let-down from a high altitude to a normal landing approach. The crew members reported no difficulty.

Witnesses said the plane roared low over a hill and plunged almost straight down, crashing a few feet from an unoccupied house and 200 feet from a pressure gas line of the nearby Ohio Fuel Gas Co. pumping station.

The impact and explosion left only unrecognizable pieces of metal and opened a 28-foot deep crater.

The blast hurled wreckage over a 170-yard area. Nearly a mile away, flaming wreckage started a fire in a field. The unoccupied farm house was heavily damaged.

The plane was part of the 26th Reconnaissance Wing stationed at Lockbourne.

Lts. Jenner, Storey and Fogle were married and each had one child. Lt. Storey lived at Obetz, near Lockbourne. The other two families live on the base.

Lt. Reiley, a bachelor, lived in Columbus.

BUC Study Shows Only Few Exhaust Jobless Benefits

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Few unemployed persons exhaust all their state jobless benefits even during periods of recession, Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation figures show.

Under Ohio law, a worker unemployed in an industry covered by unemployment insurance may draw up to 26 weekly benefit checks in any 52-week period. The maximum allowance is $39.50 for a married person with two dependents.

But a BUC study shows 4,750 unemployed Ohioans exhausted their benefits during January—less than three per cent of those drawing jobless checks. Yet this represents a 79 per cent increase over the number of persons exhausting benefits during January, 1957.

Although no figures are available for the current recession, the BUC said the average claimant during the 1949-1950 recession drew benefits for 12.2 weeks before finding work. In 1954, another recession year, the average was 10.7 weeks.

Ohio Man Sentenced For Evading Draft Call

COVINGTON, Ky. (AP)—U. S. District Judge Mac Swinford Wednesday sentenced John H. McFarland, 25, of Middletown, Ohio, to two years in prison for failure to report for induction into the armed services.

Victor Schmidt, attorney for McFarland, said the conviction would be appealed on the grounds constitutional rights were violated when the FBI failed to turn over case files.

Add Expert's Touch to Floral Arrangements

HOMEMAKER lines up daffodils in graduated pattern and cuts stems in one operation. Hyacinths are arranged with foliage to suggest a natural setting.

There's spring tonic in the pleasure of placing the first spring flowers in the prettiest vase you have and putting them where all can welcome the messengers of balmy weather.

What can add to the pleasure is the ability to coax flowers into an artistic design that is not just another clump of blossoms.

If you'd like to work with more confidence in arranging garden or florist - purchased flowers, one of America's outstanding floral designers has some suggestion for you. He's J. Gregory Conway, author, lecturer and college instructor in the art of flower arrangement, whose skill is to be demonstrated in a television series this spring.

Conway makes the point that Nature has established the growing patterns of plant materials and the best designs are those that follow her leads.

As an extreme example: you would not combine a greenhouse orchid with a wild sunflower.

HE STRESSES, too, the importance of compatibility in floral arrangements, citing as an example that the daisy's informality clashes with the velvety texture of the rose, but it does suit it for combination with geraniums and blue cornflowers.

IN ARRANGING flowers, he usually establishes his main outline first - a diagonal, a circle or triangle - and usually places the tallest blooms first. He then fills in with shorter lengths.

In one arrangement using lilacs, Conway lines them up in his hand with the heads graduating down as they will appear in the final effect. He then cuts the stems all at once. Describing the tulip as one of the loveliest of spring flowers, he uses them in period arrangements after the Flemish style of still-life paintings and suggests them for simple, contemporary arrangements.

Conway, to demonstrate the versatility of the tulip, uses the bud to emphasize a vertical line, and then unfurls petals to make a round accent with the fully opened blossoms tucked into the base of an arrangement.

IF YOU BUY tulips, be sure to trim the stems above the blunt, white tip into the green of the chlorophyll so that water can be absorbed to keep the tulips fresh and crisp.

One difficulty found in arranging flowers in vertical, clear glass containers is that crossed stems showing through create a distracting element interfering with the final effect.

Conway offers a neat solution to the problem:

Cut a Y-shaped twig from a tree. Trim to fit very snugly across interior of vase about a half inch down from the top.

Stems are led into water through the fork and further wedged with another short piece of wood.

His imaginative choice of containers for special effects is noteworthy. A pretty, tiny jewel box as setting for a lily of the valley, violet and miniature rose bouquet looks as sweet as it smells.

I like, too, the summery look of an upturned straw garden hat with a glass bowl set in the crown to

Benson Dodges the Ax Again

Reports of Ezra Taft Benson's political death usually turn out to be exaggerations. But the latest attempt to assassinate him may be the one that will roll his head.

Thirty Republican representatives, with an eye on next November's voting, have issued an ultimatum that Benson must be knocked off as secretary of agriculture if they are going to save their own necks.

What they are out to kill, of course, is not the secretary of agriculture in person but the ideas he advocates for U.S. producers of food and fiber.

He wants the producers to give up the idea of living off federal subsidies for crops under federal control. He wants them to quit thinking of themselves as wards and dependents of the federal government. He thinks they should seek solutions to their own production and price problems.

These and other ideas about agricultural producers are diametrically opposed to the wartime-inspired program that had the peacetime effect of providing a built-in mechanism for accumulating price-depressing surpluses.

They are the one major program of the Eisenhower administration that made a clean break with New Deal-Fair Deal policy. Politicians who must rely on farm-vote support always have been scared stiff of the Benson philosophy of agricultural self-reliance.

While American Farm Bureau Federation has backed Benson for the long-range rightness of his ideas, farm-vote politicians are concerned only with short-range effects—and last Tuesday's special election in Minnesota's 1st congressional district panicked them. In a solid Republican district, the Democratic candidate came within a few hundred votes of capturing what was supposed to be a sure GOP seat in the House.

The decision now is whether to put principle ahead of politics; whether to do what seems to be right for the country, or whether to do what seems to be right for the next election.

Actually, this always has been the decision to be made about Secretary Benson. He was brought into the Eisenhower cabinet in 1953 on a basis of principle, not politics. He has been kept in the cabinet on that basis.

His assailants contend a political party exists only to help its members win elections. His defenders contend that a political party which does not stand for anything but winning elections ultimately can win nothing but contempt.

The 30 GOP representatives who have made the case for Ezra Taft Benson's political execution might do well to ask if they are not also making a case for losing their own skins by trying to save them.

It is not a sure-fire bet that the overwhelming majority of farmers in the United States would put subsidies ahead of self-respect in a showdown.

Where Are The Horses

Many college educators were incredulous when a Wall Street Journal report disclosed an over-all shortage of students in the current year's classes. The educators in many cases knew their own classes were undermanned, even though admission standards had been lowered, but they did not know that the problem was widespread.

At a time when there is more publicity hoopla about higher education than ever before and a popular impression that only the brightest boys and girls have even a fighting chance to go to college, many colleges are praying for enough applicants to keep them in sight of solvency. One survey mentioned by the Wall Street Journal showed 150 of 200 colleges included in the survey looking for enough students to maintain the status quo. Many colleges with this problem have solved it after a fashion by admitting more borderline applicants than experience has shown to be feasible.

Two things apparently account for the shortage of academic horses being led to the educational trough to quench their thirst, although neither the Wall Street Journal nor the educators speculated about causes.

One is the tendency of college expenses to rise more rapidly than students' ability to pay, with the result that many potential students never become actual students.

The other is the graduate separation of colleges and universities into categories of quality. The most desirable schools may have as many as 10 applicants for each opening. The least desirable schools may have three places for each two applicants. So-so schools, if lucky, are about even up between places and applicants.

By 1960, it is probable that even the poorest schools will be swamped. That will be when the war-baby crop hits the campuses. But the rush has not begun yet, to the surprise of many educators who thought their vacancy problems were unique until the Wall Street Journal found out to the contrary.

Court Photos Feasible

Newspapers will find solid merit in a proposal by Philip W. Porter to the chairman of the house of delegates of American Bar Assn. that the problem of courtroom reporting be divided into its component parts.

Porter, who is Sunday and feature editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, believes the problem of how to take still pictures unobtrusively already has been solved. Demonstrations have shown that small cameras requiring no lighting equipment can be used in courtrooms without interfering in any way with the proper decorum of the court.

As chairman of the Freedom of Information Committee of Ohio Newspaper Assn., he therefore recommends that their use be permitted at the discretion of individual judges. Under Canon 35 of the American Bar Assn., all picture-taking now is banned.

Porter's reasoning is that courtroom reporting should be allowed to develop in ratio to technological improvements. The reporter with a pencil and notebook has been accepted because his duty can be performed without creating any distraction. A photographer with a miniature camera now can be admitted on the same basis. If technological improvement to come make radio and television reporting possible on this basis, they would be admitted, always subject to the discretion of individual judges.

Newspapers have no wish to intrude improperly. Neither do radio and television. But all three are mindful of the fact that no bar association has any right to keep them out of any courtroom where they can do their jobs without causing interruptions or distractions. Only duly-elected and duly-appointed judges can decide how the dignity of their courts is to be upheld.

Chest X-Rays

Because of the high incidence of pulmonary tuberculosis among older people and because of the increased seriousness of the disease when it afflicts that group, it is urgent that aged residents take advantage of the free chest X-ray service available here today and tomorrow.

The mobile X-ray unit is stationed on South Broadway. X-rays will be taken from 6 to 8 tonight and tomorrow from 10 a. m. to noon and from 2 to 4 and 6 to 8 p. m.

The service is being financed by the Columbiana County Public Health Service through its sale of Christmas seals.

Although stress is placed on the need of older people to get chest X-rays, the service should not be neglected by younger persons. Tuberculosis doesn't respect any age groups.

Anyone aged 18 years and older can receive the X-rays.

The service is free—the dividends may be large.

Once Over

Unless "bingo," the latest TV novelty, is stopped, ratings of all other shows will suffer. The lure of bingo is nationwide. Millions of women will drop homework, child-care and most other forms of entertainment for it.

Give America bingo by airwaves and there will be chaos in Trendex. This can turn out to be the only TV entertainment that can kill "westerns." Cowboys are really scared. Producers are already talking of a frontier series in which cow-ponies carry numbers to be "played" by the unseen audience.

Even "Wagon Train," "Maverick" and "Gun For Hire" may have to give TV fans floor lamps, cameras, iceboxes, electric ranges, milk coats, blankets and general merchandise.

BINGO ON TV comes at an hour when many states are in a battle about its legalization at bingo parties. And at a time when New York State is about to have local tests at polls. Whether it is legal over the airwaves may yet mean a long court fight, although producers have obtained assurance everything is "jake," since no admission or other cash payments are involved.

Be that as it may, when mommer can play bingo for prizes in her bathrobe by just twisting a dial, bingo may be played in America as never before.

A gal who can take a $64,000 question or leave it alone will leap into a free bingo game. She gets everything she would get at the regular bingo party except gossip and the chance to suspect a neighbor of cheating. TV performers on guard! This can ruin you. Common criticism of a performer from here in can be, "He's very good, but what can I win from him?"

THE SQUAWK-CHUTE: Hi—I just had an unusual experience. A policeman rebuked an autoist for not giving pedestrians a break on the green light at one of those Walk-Don't-Walk crossings. What should I do? A—Take an aspirin; the cop's action was probably unintentional.

HARVARD WILL sponsor its own radio show as a regular feature over a wide network. Harvard students, the glee club, the Crimson band, etc., will perform. Yale and Princeton will have to follow suit. Neither will sit back and relish Harvard monopolizing the airwaves. Yale officials are reported in a conference over recalling Rudy Vallee. The had seemed safe with Cole Porter, while Princeton had Josh Logan as its entertainment asset. What a break it would be for any big university if it had among its old grads Frankie Sinatra, Sid Caesar or George Gobel! Education is as important as soap, beer and detergents. Everything should be okay up to the point where the Harvard emcees works in a plug for a powder that leavens things "blue-white."

THE SKI CONTEST at Hanover, N. H., was called off on account of too much snow! Can you remember away back when the theater gave you a lift, not a fit of despondency?

American dress men say the chemise style will go over with American women. This may be loose thinking.

Much to Gain and Everything to Lose

(AN EDITORIAL)

Will Salem ever get the highway improvements it needs so badly?

State Highway Department officials offer encouraging words, particularly on the Route 62 north bypass, yet this project has dragged through two state administrations.

The latest word on the Route 62 relief route is that it has "top priority for the 1960-61 biennium."

It means that, barring some unforeseen delay, the $4 million project would be let for contract work in the year to follow.

That doesn't seem too far away—only two to three years; maybe four.

BUT, HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT Officials indicated on Dec. 15, 1956, that the Route 62 job was planned for letting in 1957. Last year, as all Salemites know, brought only continued talks of the bypass and other road improvements.

Now the promises are for "top priority in the 1960-61 biennium," in the words of William Quicksall, division engineer for the Highway Department at New Philadelphia.

We feel certain that Mr. Quicksall is sincere in his statements. In recent conferences with the Mayor's Highway Committee and with Chamber of Commerce officials he has demonstrated a willingness to work closely with Salem leaders in solving traffic problems.

HOWEVER, THREE TO FOUR YEARS hence doesn't seem soon enough, nor does it seem fair treatment to a city which has paid professional engineers to prepare an arterial highway survey, as requested by the Highway Department. The agreement was made in 1955 between City Council and the Michael Baker Engineers of Rochester, Pa.

The report was finished in January, 1957, and copies submitted to city officials and the Highway Department.

The Baker Engineers' recommendation is for construction of a circumferential highway to relieve downtown traffic congestion and this would take Route 62 in a northeasterly direction around the city.

THE FIRST STAGE OF this route would link the Damascus Road with the Albany Road, crossing the Benton Road and the Ellsworth Road.

This link is badly needed and is the engineer's first recommendation.

The second phase of the circumferential highway would be the completion of the south bypass, bringing Route 45 to a junction with Route 62 at the Damascus Road. The last stage of the overall project would be to link the Route 62 north bypass eastward from the Albany Road to join with Alternate Route 14 at the bottom of the Millville Hill.

All of this will take time and money. It can not be done all at once.

That is why it is so vital to Salem's future growth to have the first phase of the Route 62 project started sooner than 1961.

If Salem has any major deterrent to progressive growth it is its inadequate streets and highways. The recommendations of the Michael Baker Engineers must be carried out if the community is to expand and prosper.

TO IGNORE THEM would only mean stagnation. Only 12 and one-half per cent of Salem's land space is used for streets and a growing city needs arterial highway relief to avoid the unpleasant prospect of continuing to get along with a street pattern that can hardly handle today's traffic load, let alone what may come in the future.

Another reason for the urgency of the start of the Route 62 bypass as recommended by the Baker Engineers is the fact that the Highway Department is studying plans for diversion of that highway farther away from Salem. An engineering firm's report on this project is expected on or about March 15.

This report may shatter the city's dreams of a circumferential highway and years of planning and expense will be for naught.

Now is the time for diligent effort to get the Route 62 bypass under construction. Now is the time, too, to make formal application for the completion of the south bypass.

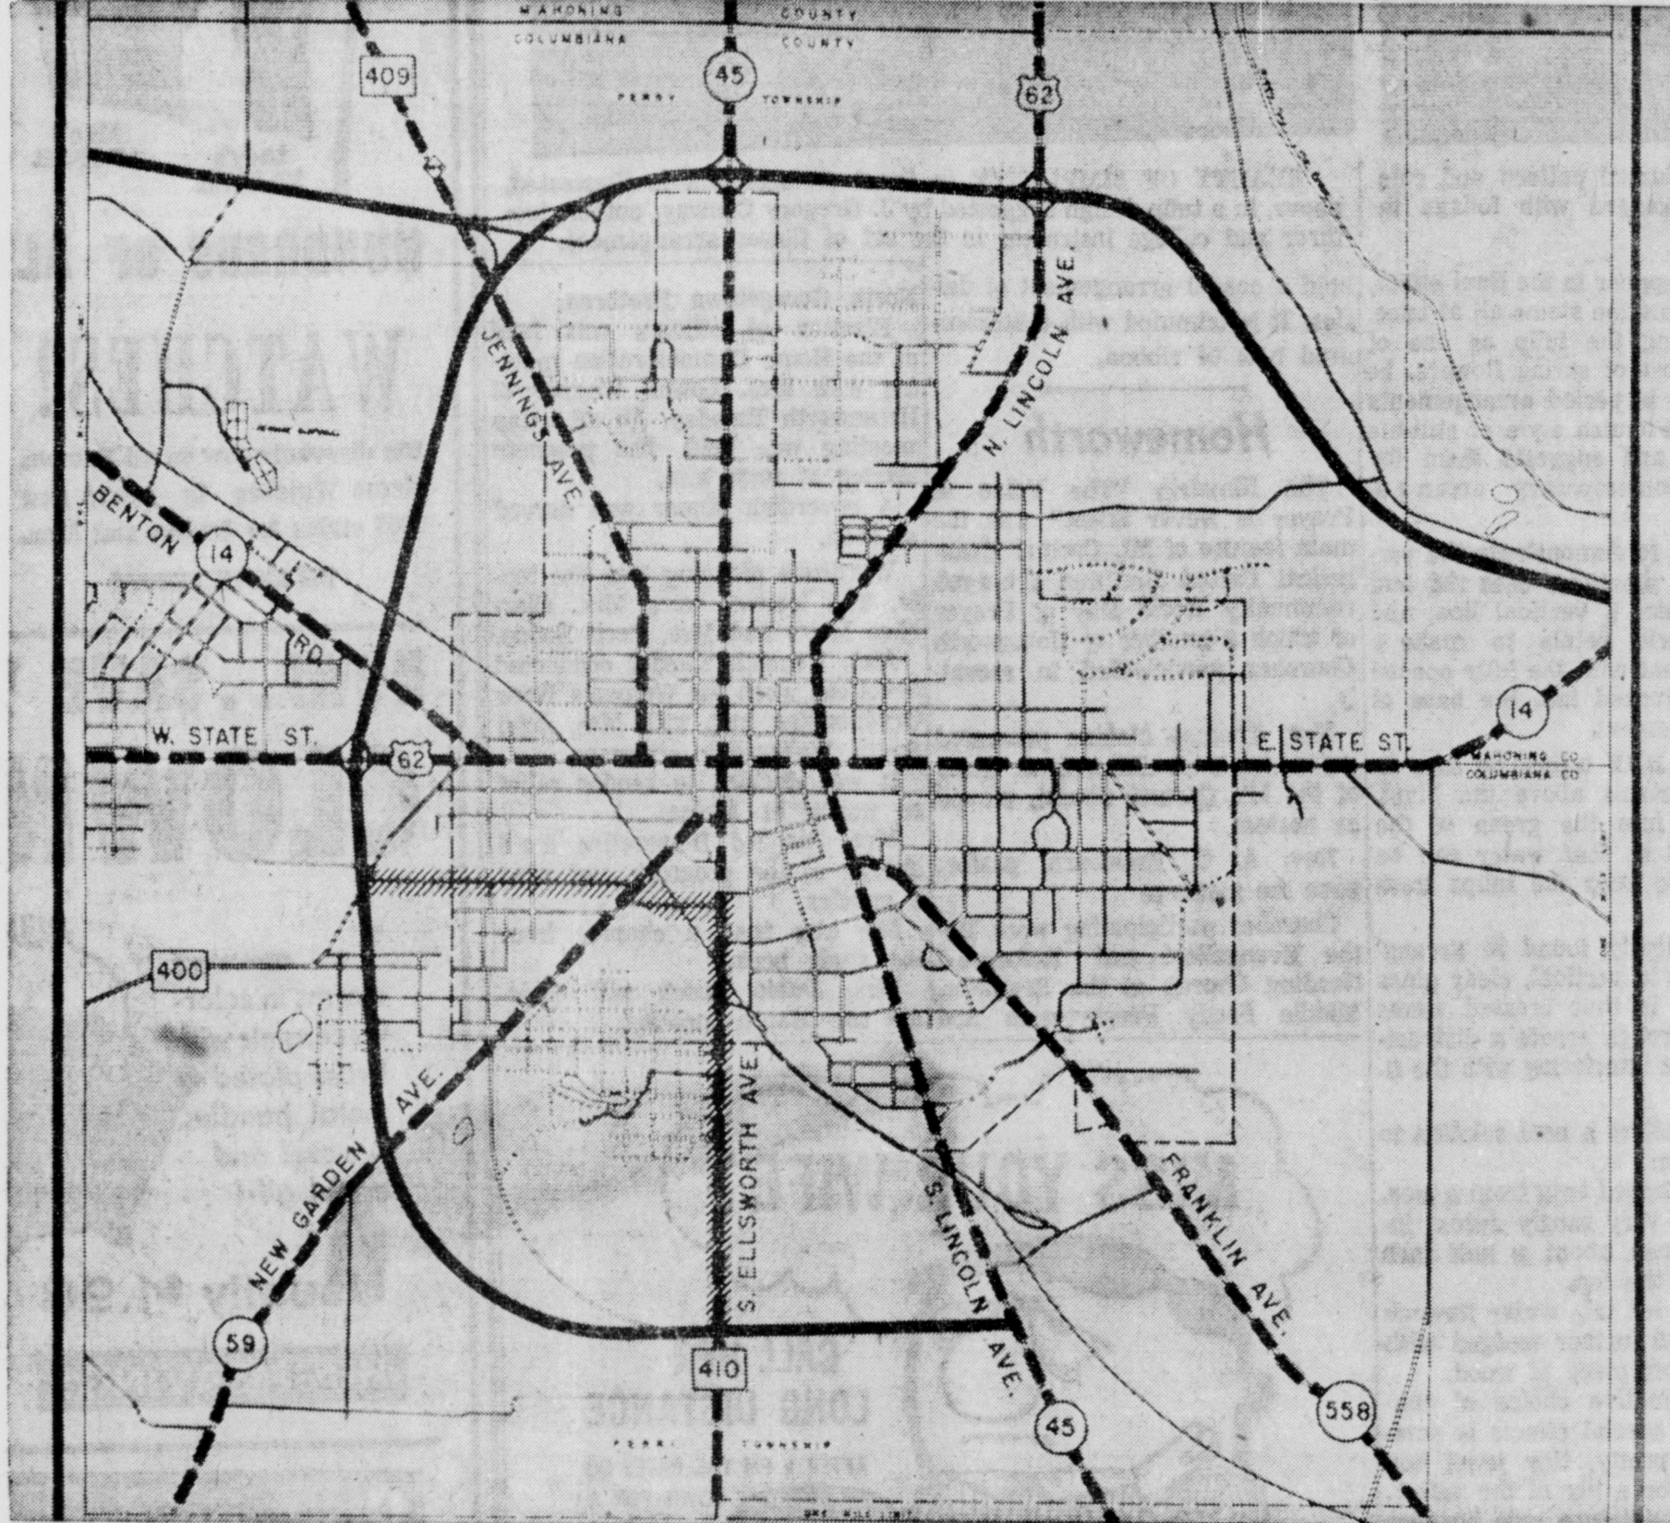

Salem has much to gain and everything to lose.

Shattered Legend

For long years, former President Harry Truman's name has been linked in seemingly happy association with "The Missouri Waltz."

Now it turns out he doesn't like the "Waltz."

At this point, if anyone dares to say that Franklin D. Roosevelt didn't like "Home on the Range," our foundations may start to totter.

THE MAP ABOVE, prepared by the Michael Baker Engineers, shows in heavy black line how the north (Route 62) and south (Route 45) bypasses, when completed, would give Salem a circumferential highway to ease traffic congestion by taking through traffic around the municipality, yet close enough to afford the city extra highway facilities. Dotted lines are the city's primary thoroughfares. Shaded area (lower left) shows how south bypass could serve the important industrial section.

John Foster Dulles

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Secretary of State Has Stood Acid Test of Time

John Foster Dulles has just reached his 70th birthday and naturally it is an occasion for appraisal of his accomplishments as secretary of state.

His dedication to the highest ideals of the American republic has not faltered in the slightest because of the barrages of criticism often fired at him.

The controversy over what Mr. Dulles does and says is not really concerned with him as an individual. It is basically a conflict over rival ideologies in America.

The criticism is inspired for the most part by a little clique of so-called "liberals" whose heroes are Messrs. Truman and Stevenson and whose "left-wing" sensibilities have been aroused because Mr. Dulles will not take the Red Chinese to his bosom or draw into the high councils of the State Department those diplomats whose policies and advice would mean appeasement of the Communist regime throughout the world.

This clique has been so persistent that it has actually persuaded many uninformed onlookers in the Republican ranks that there must be something wrong with the secretary of state.

THE CONSTANT repetition of the charge that Mr. Dulles allegedly has "lost the confidence of our allies" makes an impression, especially upon Americans who visit Europe from time to time and come in contact with persons of wide influence in the press.

Many Europeans indeed dislike Mr. Dulles because he has not been either pro-British or pro-French but, to their dismay, has insisted upon being pro-American.

The critics frequently make fun of phrases used by Mr. Dulles in his speeches. They single out and ridicule, for example, the phrase "massive retaliation." It would have been tragic, however, if the Communist rulers in Moscow had become convinced that America was not back of the policy of "massive retaliation."

Despite the sarcasm heaped on te secretary for his policy of "massive retaliation," it has stood the acid test of time. Only two weeks ago the British government itself announced a policy of "Massive retaliation" in warning the Communists that, if they ever fired on British territory, there would be no hesitation to use nuclear bombs in retaliation against Soviet territory.

THERE HAS BEEN, also, a lot of satire about the so-called "promised liberation" of the states of Eastern Europe.

The critics argue that the talk of "liberation" did not help the Hungarians when they revolted and that, in effect, Mr. Dulles had promised to use military force to help "liberate" the peoples of Eastern Europe.

Mr. Dulles himself, however, in the 1952 campaign, when the first used the word "liberation," declared that what he had in mind was a "peaceful liberation" through the channels of peace and moral force.

He never said that America would go to war for such a purpose. There never has been any question, of course, but that the moral force of the United States has been and will continue to be exhibited on the side of the oppressed nations. This has been revealed again and again in the United Nations forum.

THE TRUE TEST of the worth of a secretary of state — who is really a secretary of peace — is whether he keeps his country out of war and whether, when other nations push America to the brink, a skillful policy averts war and deters attack.

The United States today isn't fighting a war, large or small, anywhere in the world. John Foster Dulles, with the unflinching support continuously given him by President Eisenhower, has fulfilled the basic mission of a secretary of state — to keep his own country out of war. He has stood up for America. That's why the Democratic chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, calls Secretary Dulles "a sincere, courageous and dedicated American" and describes much of the criticism of him as "un-American."

This is true bipartisanship.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther, whose strategy is as cool as vichyssoise, believes that a mass strike, like an army, moves on its stomach. He has not only reckoned the cost of distributing the auto industry's profits but knows right down to the last cent how much it will take to feed his followers in local union soup kitchens throughout the land if he shuts down the Big Three car manufacturers this summer.

So prepared is the Auto Workers Union for a mass walkout that it has figured that a soup kitchen can be maintained at a cost of 31 cents per week per member.

The Auto Union's high command estimates that it would cost $30,066,000 to hit General Motors for 11 weeks, at least $31,976,000 to fight Ford for the same period and $21,886,100 at Chrysler during this time. This makes a total of $133,928,100.

IF A STRIKE of the industry should run longer the Auto Union would have to raise almost 19 1/2 million dollars weekly from then on out. This of course would cover only the basic relief for which all on strike duty would be eligible. There would be considerably higher costs including lawyers' and publicists' activities.

Since at best Reuther's union hopes to have some 50 million dollars in its strike chest by June, the United Auto Workers would have to borrow money in the event of a drawn out battle. This it plans to do — hoping its credit will be good with banks and other unions' headquarters. Backing this up would be its central treasury, most recently estimated at 30 million dollars in assets. Since this is modern industrial warfare this money would last as long as a horse-shoer in Detroit.

Therefore the experts believe that Reuther and his colleagues cannot be planning to pull out the entire industry. The strategy, therefore, would be to pick one of the Big Three.

Whichever company gets the gate prize, the average strike cost would run from well over two million dollars a week to over eight million weekly. This money would have to come out of the special strike assessments.

REUTHER and his people don't talk freely of their strategy but they keep their followers the nation over constantly pepped-up with detailed messages on the coming industrial war. The union spends close to a million dollars a year on radio and TV broadcasts — all scientifically spotted.

The UAW blankets 42 key industrial cities around the country with daily messages. They hit the airwaves at the peak traffic periods when there are more cars on the roads than at any other time — and, therefore, more car radios going — especially around Detroit.

The big UAW program is "Eye Opener," which hits the morning shifts. In Detroit and Flint, the heaviest auto centers, there is also a shift-break program later in the day — again getting to the largest possible radio audience.

In addition to the usual programs of radio specialist Guy Nunn, who has charge of the airwaves for the union, the UAW has beamed out the highlights of its special conventions of recent weeks and to core of Reuther's testimony before the Kefauver committee.

THE KOHLER STRIKE hearings will get the same treatment. In addition to its Detroit "radio-central," the UAW has a Washington broadcast bureau, set up for special interviews, coverage of congressional hearings and those labor activities they especially want the folks back home to hear about.

At the same time there are constant conferences with clergymen, political leaders and congressional friends, as well as the preparation for mass meetings which can be used at the strategic moment for support of a strike.

However, it is not absolutely certain that there will be a walkout. Clue to this was a sharp debate in the high command on what to do if peace breaks and the strike chest is loaded with 50 million dollars. Reuther argued for a rebate of the special assessment dues. He won.

And inside his high command Reuther seldom argues just for exercise.

Christian Education Meeting Is Held In Damascus Church

The second session of the Christian education meeting for the Damascus Quarterly Meeting of Friends was held Tuesday evening at the Damascus Friends Church.

Following the devotional period, a talk on "What a Sunday School Teacher Expects of his Pastor" was given by Arthur Speakman, superintendent of the Sebring Nazarene Sunday School.

A panel discussion was held on "The Art of Lesson Preparation for Adults." Rev. C. T. Mangrum Sr., pastor of the Beloit Friends Church, was in charge. Panel members were Donald Sams of East Goshen, Vera Rohrer of Salem, Freda Girsberger of Beloit and Maynard Brantingham of Winona.

Miss Beryl Gow of Akron, head of child evangelism in Summit County, had charge of the beginning, primary and junior workshop period. Dr. Paul Elliott of Indianapolis, Ind., secretary of Sunday schools of Pilgrim Holiness Churches in Indiana, conducted the youth and adult workshop. A message by Dr. Elliott closed the meeting.

31 Attend Program Of Travelers Club

Mrs. Harold Musser, first vice president, presided at the Tuesday afternoon meeting of the Travelers Club at the Ruth Smucker House. Thirty-one members were present.

Mrs. Musser opened the meeting with the quotation for the day, "A very merry, dancing, drinking, laughing quaffing and unthinking time."

Mrs. Thomas Howett presented Mrs. Walter Deming's paper on "Mardi Gras Celebrations." She told of the celebrations in France, Italy and South American and explained "fat Tuesday" which is the last day before Lent. It's a day of merrymaking and carnival in New Orleans.

"Feast of San Fermin and Good Friday Festival - Spain" was discussed by Mr. Lloyd Gordon. She told of the elaborate preparation and great expense and lavishness of parades in Seville, a city in southern Spain. She added that old statues which are treasures kept hidden in vaults are brought out to be displayed as a custom of many ages past. Mrs. Gordon told of the culture of the people of Spain, and the carefully prepared service for the guests in the hotels.

Mrs. Harry Krohne's article on "Palio at Sienna" told of the two-day celebration in Sienna, Italy. It is one of the oldest celebrations, dating back to the 13th century, she added. The horse racing is held in the public square which is not level, and the horses are not thoroughbreds, but people come from miles around to see the "world's wackiest horse race," she said.

Paris Hats Worn Off the Face

PEAR SHAPED . . . This pert hat is in pale green shiny straw, by Achille of Paris.

Paris hats take many shapes for spring but they have one thing in common - all are worn off-the-face, and all are dramatic enough to provide a balance for the drooping sack silhouettes of the season.

The umbrella line and the pear shaped toque are among headliners in the millinery lineup. The big-brimmed cartwheels form a decorative frame for the face, and often are built on bandeaux, so that the brim will not hide the wearer's features.

There are many versions of the beret, done in straw or printed silk fabric, usually worn back on the head. Veils are in favor with many of the smaller hats, while others employ long streamers or cut-out crowns which show the hair.

UMBRELLA LINE - White straw cartwheel, designed by Jean Barthe, is trimmed with tri-color ribbons, frames face.

Salem Garden Club Members Hear Talk on Landscaping

Walter Johnson of Sunnybrook Gardens at Youngstown was guest speaker at the Salem Garden Club meeting Monday afternoon at the Smucker House. Forty-nine members were in attendance.

Mrs. Vincent Horning, chairman of the civic committee, reported that her committee was cooperating with the management of the Memorial Building in their project to beautify the entrance of the building by supplying two planters for the windows.

Announcement was made of the three cent stamp which will be released March 15 at Ithaca, N.Y. as part of the 10th Anniversary celebration of Cornell University in honor of the great American horticulturist, Liberty Hyde Bailey.

Green ribbon awards went to Mrs. R. L. Davis for her patriotic arrangement of red, white and blue cananons, and to Mrs. Harry Krohne for a winter arrangement of dried materials.

The following received horticulture green ribbons for house plants: Mrs. John Bauman, hoyo carnosus and tri-leaf nephitis; Mrs. L. P. Koenreich, begonia; Mrs. J. C. Pottorf pick-aback; Mrs. R. L. Davis, Mrs. Roy West and Mrs. Edna Hansen, African violet.

Mrs. R. K. Zimmerman, program chairman, introduced Mr. Johnson who discussed "The Use of Broad-leaved Evergreens in Landscape Design." He stressed the point that design cannot be divorced from installation and maintenance. He pointed out that in planning an American garden, enclosure for privacy, play space for children, work space, eating and recreation must be taken into consideration.

Hit and miss foundation plantings without regard to enhancing the architecture of a home were discussed, and he warned about putting "a dime plant in a dollar hole."

Tea was served by Mrs. C. Robert Conroy and her committee consisting of Mrs. V. J. Bober, Mrs. James Britt, Mrs. Joseph Calladine, Mrs. Lozier Caplan, Mrs. A. A. Corbett, Mrs. J. A. Cornell and Mrs. James Cross.

Mrs. Horning also received a greer ribbon for her table arrangement of yellow daffodils and green foliage in a silver basket.

Conneaut Shotgun Victim Is Critical

CONNEAUT, Ohio (AP)—With shotgun wounds in his chest and stomach, Clifford Osborne, 30, a Nickel Plate Road machinist, was in critical condition today in Bell Memorial Hospital here.

Police said he was shot Wednesday night while standing in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Osborne, who live across Stanley Ave. from his house.

The shots, which crashed through a window, followed an argument Osborne had with his brother-in-law, James Anderson, 19, over a pending divorce between Osborne and his wife, police said. Officers arrested Anderson for questioning.

German Measles' Effect On Unborn

Most infants are born with reasonably normal anatomy. Occasionally, however, an infant appears in this world with heart disease, a club foot, harelip or cleft palate, or some other physical abnormality.

Sometimes such variations from normal are inherited, but most of them are believed to be developmental defects occurring sometime between conception and birth.

THE POSSIBLE CAUSE or causes of these congenital malformations have been extensively studied. All the facts are not yet entirely clear, but it is pretty well proved that if the mother acquires German measles during the first three months of pregnancy there is an increased risk of giving birth to a malformed child.

It is possible that other diseases or injuries during this period also increase such risk.

Recently a report from New York suggests that the risk even under these circumstances is not as great as some have believed. In this report 104 women who had German measles during the first three months of pregnancy were identified.

Of these, 28 delivered normal infants; congenital defects were found in three infants; there were three stillbirths; 12 babies were lost before they could be born alive; 10 were lost track of; and there were 48 interruptions of pregnancy, in most instances performed because of the fear that the child would be deformed.

THE TENTATIVE CONCLUSION from this study was that danger of malformation in a child born to a mother who had German measles during the first three months of pregnancy is not certainly greater than it is when this disease had not occurred, but that interruption of pregnancy routinely is unjustified.

However, the report also pointed out that the susceptible young girls should be exposed to German measles since it is mild in childhood, rarely causes complications, and gives life-long immunity, thus preventing later anxiety.

THE PRESENCE of a congenital deformity in a new-born infant cannot help but be a terrible shock to the parents. However, today much can be done for many of these defects.

For example, the advances of heart surgery are well known. In many instances a club foot can be corrected and surgery for harelip and cleft palate is generally quite successful.

The parents of one malformed child have about seven chances out of eight that the next child will be normal. This is not bad but in general congenital defects occur only about once in 213 births. Many prominent people have been born with serious congenital defects. This should be a matter of encouragement to parents who are unfortunate enough to have a malformed child and to the children themselves when they are old enough to realize their problems.

dence" concerning the burglary cases.

Judge Buzzard pointed out none of the defendants nor their attorneys had filed motions during the three terms of court to have the cases brought to trial. He also said he had to consider the prosecutor's indication of new or additional evidence.

The judge said he has instructed court officials to place the indictments on the trial list for the current term of court.

The police trials were suspended in June, 1956 at the request of the prosecution after the state's case was weakened by the reputation of a 12-page confession by Bishop.

questioning Thurman A. Whiteside, a Miami lawyer who at one time tried to help the successful applicant for Channel 10.

Whiteside, who described Mack as a lifelong friend, acknowledged lending thousands of dollars to the FCC commission over a 20-year period and giving Mack free stock in two companies. Whiteside said all but $250 of the loans had been repaid and that he could not estimate the extent of his financial assistance to Mack.

Mack has said allegations that he received payments and pledged his vote in the TV case are without foundation.

Whiteside also has denied that Mack was pledged to him to vote for Public Service Television, Inc., the National Airlines subsidiary which won the Channel 10 grant over three other applicants.

3. U.S.-Soviet differences — There will always be some sort of disagreement. Ideological differences should not necessarily produce bad feelings between the two countries.

4. U.S.-Soviet trade — "Artificial restrictions and discriminations have been imposed on trade between our two countries. First, all of this didn't cause any harm to our country. Second, your country didn't gain anything from that."

Menshikov said the United States and Russia should "normalize the economic relationship and mutually advantageous trade." He said Russia could sell such foods as caviar and commodities like furs, skins, chromium ore, platinum and manganese. Russia would like to buy machinery, industrial and agricultural products.

5. Meetings with high U.S. officials — "I can only say that I have been received very well by everybody that I met. They've been very nice. . . I found that most people I met expressed a desire in a general way to come to some sort of understanding between our countries and this is a good sign"

State Revenues Dropping

More 'Belt-Tightening' Is Called For by O'Neill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State directors at Gov. C. William O'Neill's first full Cabinet meeting since his heart attack Wednesday reported that state revenues are dropping and unemployment is increasing.

O'Neill, recovering "satisfactorily" from his Jan. 22 attack, called for further belt-tightening in government operations.

"We are going to have to cut expenditures to meet revenues so that we shall remain in the black," the governor said.

O'Neill explained that state revenues are tied directly to the level of business. He said revenue from the state's 3 per cent tax on retail sales is dropping and liquor sales by the state monopoly system so far this year are 10 per cent below the corresponding 1957 period.

Sales and liquor taxes are two of Ohio's major revenue producers. The state is confronted with the possibility of a situation which has not occurred since the thirties in respect to the revenue drop, O'Neill said.

The governor expressed confidence, however, that the state could operate without curtailing essential services. He referred particularly to requirements for poor relief and welfare activities.

Richard Minor, assistant state welfare director, said the state will be able to meet its full 50-50 poor relief matching for the first quarter of 1958. He said full matching will not be possible in March, but any deficit for that month would be made up during April.

James Tichner, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, said Ohioans unemployed one week or more now exceed 200,000. The total included 28,000 new claimants for jobless benefits, he added.

Robert B. Krupansky, state liquor director, said 1957 sales hit a new high. He explained the 1958 revenue drop thus compares with a record year.

Total for the year reached $112,462 for an increase of about 2 per cent above the 1956 total.

Cincinnati Downs Tournament-Hopeful St. Louis 91-73

Miami Whips Marshall 82-73 For 5th Mid-American Title

By The Associated Press
Oscar Robertson, a quiet kid who plays the role of hatchman for Cincinnati, has shot back into the individual scoring lead in major college basketball while giving the Bearcats all but an official berth in next month's NCAA championships.

He bagged 50 points, 25 in each half, as Cincinnati downed the tournament-hopeful St. Louis Billikens Wednesday night 91-73. The Bearcats, No. 3 in the Associated Press poll, now are 21-2 and have pocketed no worse than a tie for the Missouri Valley Conference title.

Even if Cincinnati should be upset by Wichita Saturday and wind up in a deadlock with Bradley for the crown, it's a sure bet the Mo-Valley will select the Bearcats as its NCAA representatives.

Miami (Ohio) and Tennessee Tech won their conference championships, which carry automatic berths in the NCAA Tournament, but only Miami definitely is going to the playoffs.

Miami knocked off Marshall 82-73 for its fifth Mid-American title in seven years and now will meet Pitt in the Mid-East regionals at Evanston, Ill., March 11. Tennessee Tech defeated Morehead 66-63 in overtime for the Ohio Valley crown, but may not go to the NCA since three men on the squad are four-year men and are not eligible for the tournament.

Morehead, the runner-up, might go instead, meeting Note Dame at Evanston.

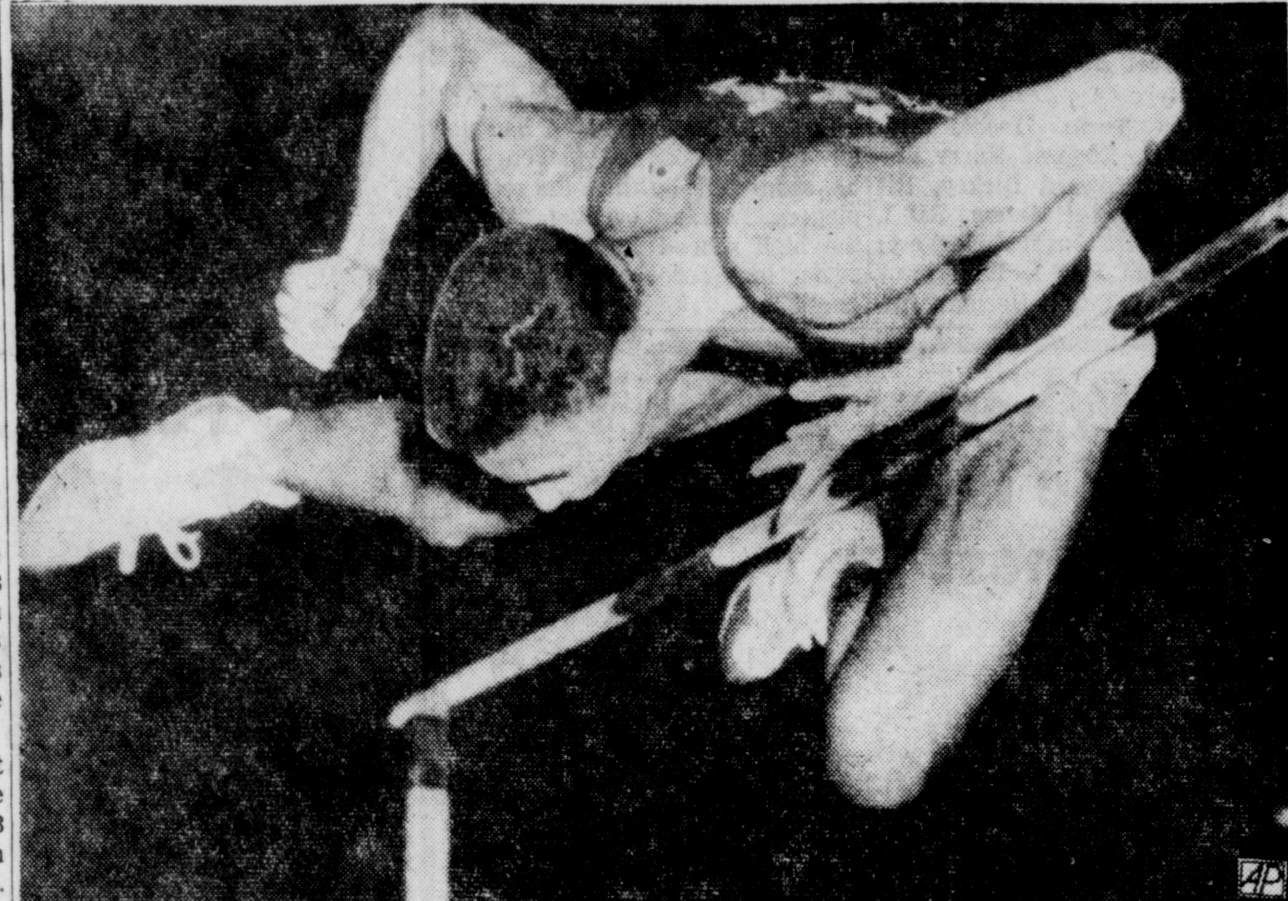

The Billikens, who had their eye on the National Invitation Tournament, grabbed a quick lead against Cincinnati and hung on for six minutes. After that, Oscar had 'em hanging by their thumbs, boosting his season scoring average to 34.4 points a game.

Idle Elgin Baylor of Seattle tumbled to second with a 33.8 average after a 25-day stay on top. Elgin has totaled 709 points in 21 games while Robertson has scored 792 in 23. Each has three games left.

Miami blew a 10-point lead at the half and didn't bag the title until John Powell gained a 74-73 edge and set off a 10-0 spurt with a jump shot with two minutes left. Wayne Embry led the champs with 26 rebounds and 33 points.

Tennessee Tech came from four points back in the closing minutes for a 58-58 tie at end of regulation play, then capped the overtime tussle as Larry McDonald sank a pair of free throws with 19 seconds left.

Temple, ranked No. 5 and headed for the NCAA, ran its winning streak, longest in major college play, to 20 with a breezy 77-54 job on Lafayette as Guy Rodgers scored 21. St. Joseph's (Pa.) rapped La Salle 82-77 in a battle of NIT hopefuls.

HIGHEST OF THE HIGH. John Thomas of Rindge Tech, Cambridge, Mass., clears the bar at six feet, seven inches in National AAU meet at Madison Square Garden in New York City to better the world indoor high jump record. Thomas, six feet, three inches tall and 17 years old next week, topped school-boy meet record of six feet, four inches set by Frank Carroll, of Lasalle M. A., last year.

they were at it, the Celts held the league's leading scorer, George Yardley, to 19 points which left him 105 points shy of George Mikan's one-season NBA scoring record with five games remaining.

In the other game of the Detroit doubleheader, St. Louis' Western Division champs cuffed the Cincinnati Royals 105-103.

At Syracuse, the hometown Nationals opened up a three-game hold on second place in the East over Philadelphia by thumping Minneapolis, 119-90 after New York had downed the Warriors, 112-96.

The Knickerbockers trail Philadelphia by three games in the scuffling for the third and last playoff spot in the Eastern Division. Detroit and Cincinnati are assured of the two other playoff positions in the West behind St. Louis, with Detroit currently a game ahead of the Royals in the battling for second place.

With Russell scoring 19 points and Sharman and Cousy 18 apiece, the Celtics got the job done against Detroit and accepted their championship without fanfare.

Brown KOs Echevarria In 1st Round

HAVANA (AP)—Joe Brown, world lightweight champion from New Orleans considered a possible title defense against nimble Ralph Dupas today after his "easiest fight," a first-round non-title knockout of Cuba's Orlando Echevarria.

In an atmosphere packed with political tension and after spending 72 hours under protective guard from Cuban rebels, Brown calmly fired two crushing rights that disposed of the Cuban champion in 2 minutes 50 seconds, Wednesday night.

There were no incidents although fears of rebel sabotage held the crowd to an estimated 12,000—some 6,000 under seating capacity.

"I'm happy about two things," the unmarked 32-year-old Brown said. "First, of course, the quick victory over Echevarria. Second, being free of the corps of police bodyguards who insisted on shadowing me."

"No, I haven't signed for anything," he added in answer to a report that arrangements were set for a title bout with Dupas. "But there is the possibility. We'll see about that when I get back to New Orleans."

The U.S. National Boxing Assn. has warned Brown that unless he meets challenger Kenny Lane in a title bout by April 11 his title may be vacated. But a bout with Dupas No. 4 contender from New Orleans might satisfy the requirement.

The two smashing rights were the only requirements the champion had to meet Wednesday night. The first spilled Echevarria on his haunches for a mandatory eight count. Instead of trying to last out the round the Cuban came back with a free-swing attack and ran into the pay off right the full count.

Echevarria weighed 136½ to Brown's 135½.

Advance Ticket Sales Indicate Boom In Baseball Attendance

By JACK HAND
By The Associated Press

Advance ticket sales indicate a baseball attendance boom in most big league cities. Los Angeles, New York, Milwaukee and San Francisco are showing the way.

The Dodgers with their 100,000-seat Coliseum in Los Angeles expect to start smashing records opening day and hope to keep it up the rest of the year.

Harold Parrott, the club's business manager, says advance sales are "past the 1½-million-dollar mark and almost twice what they were at this date in Brooklyn last year."

Pete Hoffman, ticket manager for the San Francisco Giants, says approximately $925,000 is in the till, almost a 100 per cent increase over last year's sale at this time in New York.

With no more opposition from the Giants and Dodgers, the Yankees are reaping a rich harvest in New York. A month ago, club officials said the advance had reached 1½ million dollars. The club record of $1,700,000 probably has fallen already and the final tally on opening day may be close to two million dollars.

Milwaukee, as usual, expects to close out all its 12,000 season tickets long before the opener.

The Milwaukee Braves, Chicago Cubs and Boston Red Sox are the only clubs to increase prices. The increases ranged from 10 to 25 cents. Major league prices, of course, will be higher than the minor league scale in California.

Here's a thumbnail rundown on other clubs:

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Baltimore: $100,000 ahead of last year.
Boston: Season ticket sales running about 10 per cent ahead of last year "in money."
Chicago: Sales of $645,000 compared with $35,000 last year in same period.
Cleveland: Advance sales down about 1 per cent.
Detroit: Sales $472,248 against $339,359 last year.
Kansas City: Same as last year.
Cincinnati: Same as last year.

Conrad and Nemenz paced the losers with 12 each.

Salem led 17-8 at the half and 26-17 after three periods. Leetonia outscored Salem 15-8 in the final frame but it was too late then.

Baton Rouge Golf Tournament Opens

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Debonaire Jimmy Demaret began defense of his title today in the $15,000 Baton Rouge Open golf tournament with an eye on the weather, and, oddly enough, hoping for the worst.

The 46-year-old Demaret, renowned for fancy clothes and a knack of playing his best golf in the worst weather conditions, headed a rugged field of 150 professionals and 10 amateurs.

In addition to Ed (Porky) Oliver, who came from behind Monday to win the $30,000 Houston, Tex., tourney, and Ken Venturi, only double winner so far in the winter circuit, practically every top pro on the tour will be on hand.

The 6,450-yard, par 72 Baton Rouge Country Club course was soggy and slow after an all night rain and weeks of cold, wet weather.

The weather promised clear, cold today but said there likely would be more rain either late Saturday or Sunday.

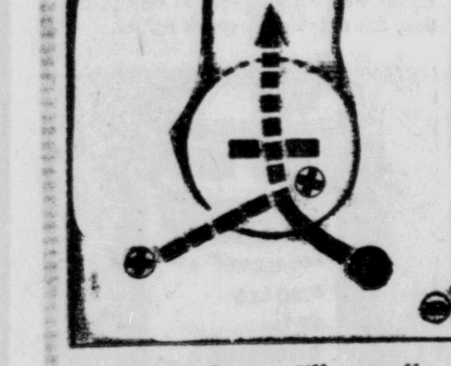

Last year Demaret finished in a cold rain to beat Peter Thomson by one stroke.

Pointers On Points

BY HOT ROD HUNDLEY
Minneapolis Lakers

I get most of my scoring done from what starts as a pick-off situation in the center of the key-hole.

I'll move (dark circle) toward the basket, taking a pass from a guard. The pivot man picks for me.

From here, I'll usually go with my jump shot off a dribble. That's only if there isn't a chance to drive all the way—and in the National Basketball Association you don't get that often as you like.

If the defender cuts me short in a drive, I'll fade away and hook with either hand from about 15 feet out.

I shoot the hook directly for the basket. If you use the backboard, you've got to sink two shots. First hit the board, then hope it slams in.

Celts Clinch Second NBA Pennant in Row

By The Associated Press
Coach Red Auerbach is still trying to "find out how we made it." But it's no puzzle to the rest of the National Basketball Assn. as to why the Boston Celtics again are champs of the Eastern Division.

The Celts, defending NBA champs, did it again in their division Wednesday night, clinching their second pennant in a row with a 106-99 victory over the Detroit Pistons in the windup of a doubleheader in Detroit's Olympia Stadium.

They did it in their accustomed style, with Bill Sharman and Bob Cousy popping away from outside and big Bill Russell controlling the backboards and scoring when he got the urge.

Among them they accounted for 55 points in what was a runaway before the Celtics relaxed after building up a 17-point lead with five minutes remaining. While

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNDT

Assuming the Quakers defeat Youngstown East tonight and also victimize the winner of the Youngstown South and Austintown Fitch encounter Saturday evening, they will advance into district-level competition at Kent beginning next Thursday.

Some Quaker fans feel the locals won't go that far, but the dubious are outnumbered by the more optimistic followers who believe this is "the year" for the Quakers.

The Quakers must overcome a number of obstacles in order to go to Columbus March 21.

If Salem advances to Kent, it will be one of 12 teams entered from seven sectional playoffs now underway.

THESE QUINTETS will include two sectional winners each from Youngstown, Struthers, Canton, Akron and Kent, and one sectional champ each from Alliance and Wooster.

Drawings for district play will be held Sunday.

Each of the 12 clubs will play but one game in district competition. The remaining half dozen teams will be eligible for regional firing.

Three of the six regional entries will remain at Kent while the other trio will move to Berea. One winner from the Eastern District playoffs will go to Kent to make up the four clubs that will be playing in the regionals there.

Each of the clubs then must win two contests in the regionals to advance to Columbus.

The Quakers will have to defeat a total of five teams including East to go to the state capital.

A GLANCE AT THE teams now playing in each of the seven sectional tournaments indicates that the Quakers are just as strong, if not better, than any of the front running clubs.

Starting with the sectional in which Salem is entered, it would appear that the Quakers and Youngstown Chaney will be the two representatives going to Kent. At Struthers, Liberty and Poland are favored to come out on top. Canton McKinley, Canton South or Canton Lincoln seem to have the nod at the Kent sectional, while at Kent, Cuyahoga Falls and Kent Roosevelt are leading the pack.

IN THE AKRON tourney the call goes to Akron St. Marys and Akron South while at Alliance it probably will be Sebring or Alliance. At Wooster the nod goes to Wooster High since it was top seeded there.

It is with this list of 11 other

Banks Seeks Perfection Of Timing

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Ernie Banks, the brightest light in the National League cellar where the Chicago Cubs have been immersed the last two seasons, hopes to get the Bruins off to a faster start this year.

The Cubs slugging shortstop, whose inability to hit full stride the past two years until midseason, is getting an early start in spring training.

Banks, 27, and with the Cubs since the end of the 1933 season, reported a week early at the spring training camp and appears as eager as a rookie in his conditioning program.

Regarded by Manager Bob Scheffing as the key man in the Cubs hopes to get out of the second division—where they have been since 1947—Banks is training with the first contingent of early arriving Cubs. The second squad reports Friday.

"My slow starts apparently are due to poor timing," Banks said. "It's the only possible answer, because I'm in good condition and I see the ball well. But somehow I just don't get clicking."

Banks, whose 44 home runs in 1935 set a league record for shortstops, has asked Scheffing to use him in all exhibition games. He feels that the more games he plays before the regular season will help to perfect his timing at the plate.

Banks, whose lifetime batting average is close to .300 and who has hit 134 home runs in four full seasons with the Cubs, is taking daily batting instructions from Coach Rogers Hornsby, regarded as one of baseball's greatest right-handed batters.

New York Beats Last Place Chicago 4-3

By The Associated Press
If Montreal's classy Canadians don't clinch the National Hockey League pennant tonight against Toronto, their best bet is to hope Andy Bathgate has an off night sometime soon for the second place New York Rangers.

The Montrealers, who have been within reach of the regular season title since Saturday, still need only a tie to bag it now that the Rangers have postponed the inevitable by running their unbeaten string to six games with a 4-3 decision over last place Chicago Wednesday night.

It was Bathgate who got the job done, scoring one goal and assisting on two others as the Broadway Blues twice came from behind. Handy Andy has been in on 13 of the Rangers' 19 goals in the streak (5-0-1).

Montreal has a whopping 21-point bulge over New York with only 11 games left. Even a tie for the Rangers Wednesday night would have ended the "race."

While keeping Montreal on the fence, the Rangers upped their edge over Detroit to five points in the only game scheduled.

Scarabs Triumph Over Tigers 80-32

Dunbar Defeated By Middies 85-37

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Middle-town and Cleveland East Tech, the one-two teams in the final Class AA Associated Press poll, eased by first round foes in handy fashion Wednesday night as they opened high school basketball tournament play.

The Middies, winners of the state title the last two years, ran their 1957-58 record to 19 straight wins, and their three-year unbeaten streak to 71, by trimming Dayton Dunbar 85-37. Jerry Lucas, the No. 1 scoring threat of the champs, scored 35 points.

Each Tech, in racking up its 19th in a row, won by the same 48-point margin boasted by Middletown. The Scarabs trounced Cleveland Heights Tigers 80-32.

The lose-and-out tournaments are beginning to take their toll of the talent, however. Sabina, seventh-ranked in Class A, was sidelined by Monroe of Preble County, 58-45.

However, the other 19 in the Class AA and Class A top 10 lists are still in the fight. At least one more must drop out this week, however, as Deshler, fifth in the smaller school list, tangles with 10th place Ottawa Hills at Whitehouse.

While some of the big ones were dropped out, the usual Cinderella teams are popping up. The early nominee for the comeback prize is Butler High of Vandalia.

The Butlerites went into the Class AA tests at Troy sporting a five-game losing streak and a record of two victories in 15 starts for the season.

But Johnny Laub, who had scored exactly seven points in seven southwestern Buckeye League games this campaign, suddenly turned into a hero.

Johnny scored a basket against Tipp City in the second overtime for a 62-60 conquest, and came right back Wednesday night with another two-pointer in a double-overtime tilt to erase West Milton 54 to 52. After his 7-for-7 season of scoring, Laub connected for 10 points in the tourney opener, and 11 in the second.

Third-place Zanesville in Class AA, after breezing by Coshocton (1-17) in the opening game at New Concord, faces Cambridge (8-11) tonight. Fifth-place Salem, with 18 in a row, meets 11-7 Youngstown East, and ninth-ranked Hamilton meets Hamilton Catholic. The other top-notchers are idle until Friday or Saturday.

10 Milwaukee Players Still Are Unsigned

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Milwaukee Braves General Manager John Quinn is beginning to frown just a little because 10 of his world champions remain unsigned and some of them won't even talk to him.

"Sure it would be a relief to have everyone in the fold and ready to go to work Saturday when spring training opens for the full squad," Quinn said. "I'm doing my part trying to contact all the unsigned, but if they don't answer the telephone we can't get together."

Quinn is not sure where most of them are. They are always "out" when phone calls are put through to their winter homes.

Those sitting it out include pitchers Lew Burdette, Bob Buhl, Gene Conley and Don McMahon; infielder, Red Schoendienst; Johnny Logan, Frank Torre and Felix Mantilla; and outfielders Wes Covington and Bob Hazle.

300 Contestants Expected To Vie In Model Plane Contest

An estimated 300 contestants are expected to participate in the indoor model airplane contest sponsored by the Quaker Eagles Model Club Friday in the Memorial Building.

Hand launched gliders and prefab model planes will be featured in the competition. Plastic models will compete in a static event. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

The contest will begin at 7 p.m., and contestants are requested to report to the registration desk with entry blanks. Those not having entry forms may secure them at the desk.

The contest is the first of three monthly events planned by the Quaker Eagles to initiate Salem youngsters into the sport of model plane construction.

Club members have been giving talks at city schools to whip up enthusiasm for the event. Model building classes and flying demonstrations are among the projects the club expects to undertake in the future.

A model flying field, located on Rt. 45 near Salem, has been

Racing Season At Canfield Opens April 19

The 1958 stock car racing season at Canfield Speedway is just six weeks away and drivers once again are getting their cars into condition or making arrangements to get 1958 models ready.

Manager Charlie Findlay has set April 19 as the inaugural with a full program of modified cars. The following Saturday night April 26, the 1957 and 1958 models will make their first showing in a new car race.

Once again the accent at Can-field will be on new models and speed.

The opening new car race will feature a 100-lap race on the quarter-mile speedway.

Findlay is already preparing for a large field of cars for the annual Memorial Day classic, 200 laps around the half-mile oval. This racing event-one of the tops in the Midwest-annually brings some of the outstanding drivers in the nation to Canfield. Races are scheduled at Canfield during the 1958 racing season every Saturday night.

Spartans Hold Edge in Big Ten Title Race

CHICAGO (AP) — Defending co-champion Michigan State holds a slight statistical edge among the four contenders ensnared in the hottest Big Ten basketball race in history.

Michigan State, Purdue, Indiana and Iowa each harbors title hopes with four losses apiece and each has games with two other contenders in the stretch drive.

Michigan State's Spartans lead the conference in defense with a 69.6 average yield in 12 games and own the best floor shooting mark of .405, official statistics disclosed today.

The Spartans rank first among the four contenders in rebounds with 50.4 per game, although just behind the two leaders in that department are Ohio State and Michigan.

Indiana, the other defending co-champion, paces the league in team scoring with an 80.1 average in 11 games, ranking ahead of two second division teams, Ohio State and Northwestern. Purdue which meets Indiana in a crucial regional TV matinee Saturday at Bloomington, Ind., is fourth in scoring with a 76.5 average. Michigan State has averaged 76.4 and Iowa 74.9.

Iowa's able defensive play is emphasized by the fact the Hawkeyes have fouled the least, an average of only 14.7 persons per game. Michigan State is second with 16.

Indiana still has the top individual scorer, defending champion Archie Dees, with a 25.3 average. Dees is hard pressed by Minnesota's George Kline with 24.2 for 13 games, 2 more than the Hoosier star.

Iowa's Dave Gunther holds third place with 21.0, followed by Don Ohl of Illinois with 20.5; Pete Tilton of Michigan with 19.6; John Green of MSU with 18.3; M. C. Burton of Michigan with 18.2; Joe Ruklick of Northwestern with 17.4; Wilson Elison of Purdue with 17.2; and, rounding out the top ten, Northwestern's Phil Warren with 16.9.

Coconut Custard Pie

Ingredients: 4 large eggs, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 can (14 1/2 ounces) evaporated milk (1 2/3 cups), 1 cup water, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 can (3 1/2 ounces) flaked coconut, Quick Cream Pastry Shell 1/2 cup heavy cream, salt, confectioners sugar, vanilla.

Method: Beat eggs enough to combine yolks and whites in medium-sized bowl. Add 1/2 cup sugar, 1/4 teaspoon salt, evaporated milk, water, and 1 teaspoon vanilla; beat enough to combine.

Measure 1 cup (lightly packed) coconut; sprinkle it over the unbaked pastry shell. Pour in custard mixture.

Place on lowest rack of hot (425 degrees) oven. Bake for 30 minutes or until knife-inserted 1 inch from sides of filling comes out clean. Large center area of pie will look quivery.

Place on wire rack to cool and finish setting — 1 to 1 1/2 hours. Whip cream with a dash of salt, sweeten slightly with confectioners' sugar and flavor with 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla; use as garnish for pie wedges with remaining 1-3 cup flaked coconut. Serve at once.

Quick Cream Pastry Shell
Use a 10-ounce package of regular pie-crust mix; do not use the pastry-stick type of mix for this recipe. Make up dough according to package directions for two-crust pie, using light cream instead of water.

Roll 1/4-inch thick and large enough so when pastry is trimmed it will be about 1-inch wider than inverted 9-inch aluminum pie pan. (The pan should be 1 1/4 inches deep).

Fold overlapping edge under and pinch pleat to make high standing rim.

Brazil Nut Apple Salad

Ingredients: 2 cups diced peeled red apple 1/2 cup diced celery, 1/2 cup chopped Brazil nuts, mayonnaise, lemon juice, curry powder, salt, salad greens, paprika.

Method: Mix together the apple, celery and Brazil nuts. Season the mayonnaise with lemon juice and curry powder to taste; mix gently with salad mixture, adding enough to moisten and flavor well. Add salt to taste.

Serve on salad greens; dust with paprika. Makes 4 servings.

There are usually about 10 fish-sticks in an eight-ounce frozen package.

LAND OF HOMES—As newschart shows, more than half of this nation's property wealth is represented by residences, single and multiple. Latest figures (1956) put the value of all locally assessed real property in the country at nearly 210 billion dollars. This is tax value, and is generally lower than market value. It represents three-fourths of all taxable property—locally assessed personal property accounted for an additional 17 per cent; the remainder was state assessed property. Data from the National Industrial Conference Board.

Rolled Sugar Bars

Ingredients: 1/4 pound butter or margarine, 1 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1 egg (separated), 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 1/2 cups flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon water, 1/4 cup finely chopped or rotary grater pecans or walnuts.

Method: Cream butter and 1 1/2 cups confectioners sugar. Reserve 1 tablespoon egg white; add remaining egg white and the yolk with vanilla and grated lemon rind to creamed mixture; mix well. Add flour and salt; mix well and shape dough into a ball, divide in half.

Place one half between two pieces of waxed paper dusted generously with flour or on a well-floured pastry cloth. Roll out to a rectangle about 7 1/2 by 10 inches. Dip cutting edge of knife in flour and cut into bars, each 1 1/2 by 2 1/2 inches. Mix 1 tablespoon reserved egg white with water and 1 teaspoon confectioners sugar. Brush over tops of bars.

Bake on greased cookie sheet in moderate (350 degrees) oven 12 to 15 minutes. Roll, cut, glaze and bake other half of dough the same way. Makes 40 cookies.

Polish Bigos

(Makes 8-10 servings)

Four slices bacon, diced, 1 cup chopped onions, 1/2 pound sliced mushrooms, two 1-pound 11-ounce cans sauerkraut, 1 pound knock-wurst, sliced; 4 cups diced cooked ham (about 1 pound), 1 medium-sized apple, cored and diced; 2 tablespoons brown sugar, 3 tablespoons chopped parsley, 1/2 cup water, 1/2 cup cranberry juice cocktail, one 10 1/2-ounce can beef gravy.

Cook bacon onions and mushrooms over medium heat until onions are tender. Add kraut, knock-wurst, ham, apple, sugar and parsley. Mix well. Cover and cook over medium heat 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add remaining ingredients. Cook covered, over low heat, 1 hour, stirring occasionally.

Household Hints

Bake two meat loaves a tone time; serve one hot. The other may be refrigerated and garnished for use at a supper buffet with a casserole of scalloped potatoes.

A buttery dry bread dressing to which sweet pickles have been added, is perfect to use when stuffing a fish that is to be baked.

A Busy Wife's Dish

SHRIMP WIGGLE

Ingredients: 1 pound medium-sized shrimp, 1 can (1 pound and 1 ounce) young small green peas, milk, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco sauce, 1 drained canned pimiento (minced).

Method: Cook the shrimp in lightly salted simmering water to cover; drain; shell; devein. Cut each shrimp in half lengthwise. Drain peas thoroughly; add enough milk to the pea liquid to make 2 cups. Melt butter in medium-sized saucepan over low heat; stir in flour. Add milk mixture all at once; cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until bubbly and thickened. Stir in salt, Worcestershire sauce, Tabasco sauce (to taste) and minced pimiento. Add shrimp and drained peas.

Cover and cool. Turn into container; cover tightly; refrigerate overnight so sauce will thin and flavors develop. Reheat gently in saucepan over low heat stirring often. Makes 4 servings.

Lemon Snow

(Makes 6-8 servings)

Six tablespoons cornstarch, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup sugar, 3 cups water, 1 cup milk, 2 egg yolks, once; cook and stir constantly ter or margarine, 1/2 cup fresh lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel, 2 egg whites, 1/4 cup sugar.

Mix cornstarch, salt and 1/4 cup sugar in saucepan; blend well. Add water gradually, add milk and mix well. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Continue to cook, stirring constantly, for 10 minutes. Remove from heat and stir a little of hot mixture gradually into beaten egg yolks.

Pour back into pan and blend well. Cook 2 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in butter or margarine, lemon juice and peel. Cool pudding slightly. Beat egg whites until they form soft peaks; gradually add 1/4 cup sugar and continue to beat until whites stand in firm, glossy peaks. Fold beaten egg whites into pudding. Pile into serving dish. Chill. Garnish with chopped nuts. Serve with cookies or a slice of pound cake.

Delicious Broccoli

Ingredients: 1 bunch broccoli, water, salt, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons slivered blanched toasted almonds.

Method: Cook broccoli rapidly in saucepan or 10-inch skillet in a small amount of lightly salted boiling water until just tender. Put butter in a 6-inch skillet and melt over low heat; stir constantly until a light brown. Remove from heat. Add almonds.

Arrange broccoli in serving dish and pour butter - almond sauce over. Makes 4 to 5 servings. Note: Broccoli bunches vary in weight. A 1-pound bunch makes 4 to 5 servings; a 1½ - pound bunch makes 5 to 6 servings.

To prepare for cooking, peel stalks with swivel-blade vegetable parer and quarter or halve so broccoli buds are at end of each piece.

Household Hints

Days of streaked, dirty arms from wringing mops are passing. Foam rubber mops wring dry without dipping moisture. But the happy part of this is that the lever for the operation is high on the handle. This keeps pretty hands out of scrub water.

A place for everything and everything in its place is a tidy motto. Many housewives place low tables, footstools, fans and other low objects in the traffic lanes of rooms. Then they date anyone to move them an inch. This furniture is hazardous to those coming through in the dark or those who wander through while daydreaming.

A kitchen item can help keep your feet dry during an unexpected downpour. Slip a section of clear plastic wrap into your purse. Then when caught in the rain, wrap it around your shoes. Or you can use it to keep your new permanent from getting wet.

The Presbyterian Church welcomed to their pulpit Sunday Noel Adame from Bucaramanga, Colombia.

This being a Missionary Education Sunday, Mr. Adame spoke on the Protestant Mission Work in Colombia.

He is at present a student at Ashland College.

At the next meeting, Mrs. John Keeler will give a review.

Albert Yeager, who has been confined to his home with flu for a week, is somewhat improved.

Many friends attended calling hours Tuesday for William Hendricks who died Sunday after a three-day illness. Hendricks was one of the oldest residents of Ellsworth Township.

His funeral was held Wednesday in Salem.

Homemaking Hints

When you are preparing candied orange peel, cover the large pieces of peel with cold water, and simmer until tender - 30 to 45 minutes. Drain and use a scissors to cut the orange peel into narrow strips before cooking it in a sugar syrup for about 20 minutes. Let the strips of peel stand in the syrup overnight before draining on a rack and then rolling in sugar.

Scientist Sets Space Travel Timetable

Big Satellite In Orbit Seen Aid To Globe

By HAL MCCLURE
LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of America's foremost sufferers of moon madness is a tall, bespectacled scientist who, in his own words, "insists on plowing relentlessly toward the stars."
Not that Dr. John L. Barnes is superstitious and is really hexed by the light of the moon. But he does have a powerful interest — almost a fixation — in the earth's only natural satellite.
CHANCES ARE that when a U.S. spaceman becomes the real-life man on the moon, part of the credit will belong to Barnes, a part-time professor and full-time head of a firm of consultants specialized solely in space travel.
Why the moon?
"The first reason, obviously, is that it's the nearest," answers Barnes. "Then there's the adventure of just going there. Scientific exploration is important, too, as is the military aspect."
"We must protect ourselves for the next war which may come from space."
When will man be able to see the next war which may come from space?
When will man be able to see the "other" side of the moon — the dark and mysterious side that has intrigued man throughout the ages?
Dr. Barnes says America could send a rocket around the moon within six months. A camera-carrying vehicle appears to be several years in the future and it won't be until 1967 that man will be able to voyage around the moon and return, he predicts.
Dr. Barnes' firm, Systems Corp. of America, is an outgrowth of two similar companies he helped found and it specializes in consultation and research for private businesses working under government missile or related contracts. Barnes' work nearly is all classified.

HOWEVER, some of the findings of Barnes and his associates are startling. Here is his projected timetable for America's space age — providing funds are made available for an all-out program:
1958 — Small Rocket with instruments, or small animal flies around the moon.
1964 — An instrumented vehicle goes to Mars and Venus.
1966 — Manned earth satellite makes safe orbit.
1971 — Man lands on moon and returns.
1975 — Man voyages to Venus and Mars and returns.
Dr. Barnes says America — if it wanted to spend the money — could send a rocket around the moon and return within six months, using existing hardware. "It would burn up, however, when it hit the earth's atmosphere, he said."
HE DOES NOT BELIEVE life exists on other planets in our solar system. Other galaxies? Perhaps, says Barnes, but propulsion limitations will prevent earthmen from finding out for decades.
Propulsion — the power used to propel a space vehicle — is the toughest, although not insuperable, problem of today's world-be space adventurer, Barnes says.
Other obstacles man must overcome to make successful planetary flights include controlling the space vehicle, navigation, communication, re-entry into the earth's atmosphere and biological and psychological limitations.
Barnes' firm, he admits, has conducted studies touching on most of these problems.
The research and final flight to the moon "will not be cheap," the space expert says. "Space travel will have a high dollar price."
BARNES, a native of Haddonfield, N.J., got his bachelor and master degrees at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and his doctorate, in mathematics, at Princeton. He taught at MIT and Tufts University before coming to UCLA in 1947, where he teaches engineering.
Why is Barnes so positive that man will conquer space?
"There's no doubt in my mind that we'll do it — because we want to. That's the history of mankind."
"In the meantime, we just keep plowing relentlessly toward the stars."

Girl Scout News

INTERMEDIATE GIRL SCOUTS
The fifth and sixth grade Intermediate Girls Scouts held a folk dance at the Masonic Temple Saturday afternoon. Don Stelts was instructor. There were 150 in attendance from 10 troops represented.
Patriotic colors were used on the refreshment table with the Girl Scout and American Flag combined in the centerpiece.
Mrs. F. S. Barckhoff Jr., program chairman of Salem Council of Girl Scouts, introduced Mrs. John Litty, new president of the council, who spoke briefly to the girls and their leaders.
The committee in charge was headed by Mrs. C. K. McClaskey. Assisting were Mrs. Fred Roth and Mrs. George Ulrich.

Things May Be Getting Bit Crowded On Moon

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Things may be getting a bit crowded on the moon.
Two Phoenix men who claim ownership of the moon have learned that someone else staked a claim several years ago.
William E. Dudman Jr., a hotel clerk, and John B. Snell, presently unemployed, filed a warranty deed to the moon last week with County Recorder N. C. Moore, who insists the deed was drawn up legally.
Now it turns out that Professor Andrew Kenneth Primos of New Orleans, who died Feb. 13, filed a similar claim several years ago in Cook County, Ill.
"Well, it's still ours unless proven otherwise," Dudman commented. "That's for the courts to decide."

What Won't They Think Of Next For Canines?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Market Street passers-by who stop to gaze at a pet shop aren't looking "at the doggie in the window" — but at velvet-lined caskets specially designed for animals.
They come in three sizes — in pink and blue.
